

LOW MEN ARE IN A PANIC.

AND THE MAJOR HINTS THAT LOW MUST WITHDRAW.

More than thirty that this is a sensible man would do this suddenly announce that they will withdraw their names from the race. When the tickets will be in the field, the city changed their whole front of battle yesterday. The Executive Committee, at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon at 33 Liberty street, and the end of the Committee on Organization on the evening of Oct. 1 for the purpose of making nominations.

The significance of this step is most evident when it is remembered that only a few days ago Chairman Reynolds made the positive statement that the City would nominate candidates for Comptroller and President of the Council before the Republican City Convention, which will be held on Sept. 28. Mr. Reynolds saying at the time that the Citizens' Union had decided to go it alone without reference to what the Republicans might do, "it being evident that Chairman Quiles' conference were not held in good faith, and that the end of the last week but before the meeting of the Republican State Committee Mr. Reynolds said that the candidate for Comptroller would probably be a New York man and the President of the Council a man from Brooklyn. At both times the statement was made that, while the City would put a full ticket in the field, no action would be taken in reference to nominations for county officers and Assemblymen until the first of the month.

The sudden change of plan can mean but one of two things, as Chairman Reynolds admitted yesterday: Either the City are "laying low" and hope of some common law moral political deal or they are waiting for the Republicans and Democrats to nominate in order that they, the City, can fill up their ticket from Comptroller down by selecting names from the other two tickets. Chairman Reynolds related yesterday with great detail that the City had decided to do so, and that the City had decided to do so, and that the City had decided to do so.

The truth of the matter is, if the testimony of persons well informed as to the inner workings of the City's intellects is to be believed, that the City are practically in a state of panic, and all the greater by the knowledge that the mind of the leader is much disturbed over the situation.

Mr. Low had intended to go to Cornwall-on-Hudson for Sunday, and his private secretary, Mr. Beebe, gave out officially on Saturday night that he had been to Cornwall-on-Hudson, but did not go out of town, but, instead of that, had talks with several prominent Republicans not identified with the machine. However, it is not on good authority that on Sunday morning Mr. Low was seen at the Mayor's house at the latter's house, after the Mayor had publicly stated that Low could not be without the support of the Republican machine. Mr. Low's secretary would not admit that this report, but he said that he has seen Mr. Low at the Mayor's house, and that he has seen Mr. Low at the Mayor's house, and that he has seen Mr. Low at the Mayor's house.

DEATH AFTER A PRIMER.

There was a Raw, and Mr. Dreischer, Who Had Heart Disease, Died of Excitement.

There was a fight at the Republican primary in the Thirty-second Election district last night. The young man was a member of the Hamilton Draischer, 72 years old, of E. East 129th street, and he died shortly after the disturbance had been quelled.

His son William is the Chairman of the Board of Inspectors of the district, and the primary was held in the Dreischer's home.

The young man is a strong Low man, and it is said that he had arranged to bar out of the primary all but Low men. There are 123 Republicans registered in the district. Only nineteen of these are said to have gained admittance to the primary.

The leader of the anti-Low faction in the district is George H. Morrell, Jr., of 119 East 129th street. He and his father, accompanied by Francis R. Bell of 1448 Park avenue, a colored politician, and a half dozen others, forced their way into the primary, and they hung around.

Young Dreischer threatened to have the intruders arrested for breaking into a private home. An attempt was then made to elect the Mayor, but the intruders refused to do so. Mr. Dreischer, the elder, who had no interest in the primary, came down stairs in his night gown, and he was seen to be in a state of great excitement.

Picking up a cane he sailed into the fray and struck Bell over the head. The Morrell crowd was then seen to be in a state of great excitement. A policeman was sent for, and young Dreischer and young Morrell each ordered him to get out of the house. The officers, however, did not do so, and the situation became more and more excited.

Young Dreischer's friends came to the rescue with him. He went home and found his father, who had been in a state of great excitement. The old man died half an hour later. Dreischer went back to the station house and reported the case to the police.

Detectives Mehan and Reed arrested both the Morrells and Bell. They were locked up in the station house, and they were held for a night. The Morrells were released, but Bell was held for a night. The Morrells were released, but Bell was held for a night.

Arthur Whyte of 27 East 130th street, who was seen to be in a state of great excitement, was also arrested. He was held for a night, and he was released. The Morrells were released, but Bell was held for a night.

The strangers refused to leave when ordered to do so. Mr. Whyte, who was seen to be in a state of great excitement, was also arrested. He was held for a night, and he was released. The Morrells were released, but Bell was held for a night.

PINNEY FACTION ROUTED.

RICHMOND COUNTY KICKERS BOLT THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Regular Republican Organization Forces, Under Leader Hugh McRoberts, Outvoted the Disgraced Followers of District Attorney Pinney 9 to 1 at a Stormy Time.

The Republican County Convention of Richmond county, called for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Greater New York City Convention, called for Sept. 28, was held in the German Club rooms at Stapleton last night. The convention was called to order by Ernest H. Seehusen, Chairman of the County Committee.

Thomas A. Branniff, Secretary of that committee, acted as Secretary of the convention. It is many years since the Republicans of Richmond county have taken so great an interest in a county convention as the one held last night. The interest centered not so much in the fact that the convention was the first called to name delegates who shall help Mayor or Mayor-elect, but in the fact that the outcome of the convention would determine whether Senator Platt's venerable lieutenant, Hugh McRoberts, should continue to be the leader of the Republican organization's forces in Richmond county or whether District Attorney Pinney, Jr., should succeed to the leadership.

Pinney, so the organization men say, is a shining example of the gratitude men show for political favors. They point to the fact that it was only a few years ago that he made his debut in politics, under Mr. McRoberts' patronage. To the old leaders of the Richmond Republicans Pinney owes, it is said, whatever political prominence he has.

For the past few weeks Pinney has sought, so it is said, by every means possible, to unseat his benefactor, and in doing so he hoped to rise to higher political preferment. Pinney was beaten, however, for the first time. Every one of his delegations whose seats were contested were thrown out save one. Even Pinney himself was denied admittance to the convention, it having been found, although he was a member of the sitting delegation, that he had acquired title to his seat by what was charged as an irregularity.

When the convention was called to order 203 delegates answered to their names. Of this number, before the lines of battle were drawn, Mr. McRoberts claimed 120. Pinney would give out no figures, but said he had a working majority.

Immediately after calling the convention to order Mr. Seehusen announced that, by the authority vested in him as Chairman of the County Committee, he would name the Committee on Contested Seats. This announcement brought Mr. Pinney to his feet. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, I don't know who is in the minority here, but I do know that I am the only one to give the minority a representation in the Committee on Contested Seats. I ask that that committee be composed of a majority of the delegates as an admission on Pinney's part that his followers were in the minority. When Mr. Pinney was elected, he was elected by a majority of the delegates, and he was elected by a majority of the delegates, and he was elected by a majority of the delegates."

Mr. McRoberts' remarks were greeted with cheers, and which the Chairman announced and which the delegates voted to accept. The Chairman then announced that the Committee on Contested Seats would be composed of a majority of the delegates, and he was elected by a majority of the delegates, and he was elected by a majority of the delegates.

There being no further business, the convention adjourned. The delegates were then elected, and they were elected by a majority of the delegates, and they were elected by a majority of the delegates, and they were elected by a majority of the delegates.

REPAIR FOR THE GOLD MINERS.

Plans for Sending Supplies to Dawson City—Contract for Ten Locomotives.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—No fear is now entertained by the Government that supplies cannot be sent to the American miners in the Yukon River country to last them through the winter. P. B. Weare of the Alaska Trading and Transportation Company, and Michael Cudady, the Chicago packer, who is one of the stockholders in the company, were taken to the White House this morning by Secretary Alger, and they assured the President that everything was favorable to getting to Dawson City a sufficient quantity of provisions.

The suggestion that a steam snow-melting engine on wheels be used to make a track over the frozen surface of the Yukon River is considered feasible by Messrs. Weare and Cudady, both of whom know Alaska very well. The President and Secretary Alger were assured that if the steam wheel plan would not work, a winter trail could be established without great difficulty across the Chilkoot Pass. Mr. Weare said that the trading company hoped to get three boat loads of provisions from St. Michael to Dawson before the river becomes frozen over. There are 3,000 tons of provisions in St. Michael, and more will arrive by the steamer Humboldt, which will leave Seattle this week.

Winter measures have been adopted to prevent suffering from lack of food at Dawson City this winter. Persons who have not a sufficient supply of provisions are to be sent back to St. Michael. The Canadian police have promised to assist in the work, and the American police will contribute from their stores to keep those expelled from going hungry on the Chilkoot Pass. The stores there will be distributed to those who are not supplied. Few of the boats have been frozen, and the winter trail is not yet started. The sufferers are adventurers and miners.

Mr. Weare was informed to-day that the steamer Humboldt, which was chartered to convey food, and a company of the United States Army, to St. Michael, Alaska, would sail from Seattle on Thursday, Sept. 23. The vessel is expected to reach St. Michael on Oct. 3 or 4. It is to be established a military post at St. Michael, and the military post will be established at St. Michael, and the military post will be established at St. Michael.

NEW ORLEANS NOT CLEANING UP. The Quarantine Situation—Threats to Isolate Herein.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—The New Orleans Board of Health has finally decided to establish its detention camp at Oakland Ridge park, on Metairie Ridge, in the rear of the city. It has also decided that all persons taken sick shall be treated in the city.

When yellow fever is discovered in houses where there are a large number of persons, it has been the custom in the past to remove the patients to the Charity Hospital. The directors of the Charity Hospital are strongly opposed to this, and point to the fact that 50 per cent. of those removed die, against only 10 per cent. of those treated at home. They attribute this greater mortality to the shock caused to the patient by the removal.

It has been decided to remove the well to a detention camp instead of the sick. The old Marine Hospital and several other localities in the city were proposed, but strongly objected to. On the other hand, the suggestion of Harrison tendered Oakland Park, which was accepted, and the necessary work will begin there at once. The Board of Health and the Mayor have decided not to have a cleaning-up day to-morrow as originally proposed, believing that the digging up of the gutters would do more harm than good, so the cleaning is to be gradual and continuous.

Moving day in New Orleans is Oct. 1. The Board of Health has decided to isolate the moving which occurs on that day may do some harm by scattering the seeds of the fever and have caused a number of recommissions on the subject.

STARVING ANOTHER TOWN.

WEYLER DENIES FOOD TO THE INHABITANTS OF AGUACATE.

Founded Inside His Military Lines and Shot Down if They Try to Escape—The Antonomist Party About to Be Merged with the Reformists—Autonomy the Shibboleth.

HAVANA, via Key West, Sept. 20.—The Spanish are gradually exterminating the population of the town of Aguacate, Havana province. An average of eight men are shot there every day without any trial or sentence passed upon them. Many others, also, are dying of starvation, the Spanish troops not permitting the introduction of victuals, except for the garrison in the forts. The Spanish military commander, Don Gorman Villanueva, says his acting under strict orders from Gen. Weyler, and he pitilessly rejects all the supplications of the inhabitants who beg him to spare their lives. The case of the town of La Esperanza, in Santa Clara province, whose inhabitants were being starved by Weyler until the Bishop of Havana intervened in the name of humanity, is thus being duplicated only a few miles from the capital of Cuba.

The soldiers in the forts which surround El Aguacate do not permit the people to escape, as, according to a decree issued by Don Gorman Villanueva, every person who approaches the military lines is to be shot at once.

The awful situation is aggravated by an epidemic of smallpox, which is making havoc among both the inhabitants and the Spanish soldiers. The ignorance of the Spaniards led them to believe that smallpox is produced by poison thrown into the water by the Cubans, and instead of taking sanitary measures, their policy is redoubled against the hapless inhabitants.

El Aguacate, before Villanueva took command of its garrison, had about 5,000 inhabitants. Now the population is scarcely half that number.

The Reformist party in Havana, composed of uneducated Spaniards, has been greatly changed in personnel and principles according to a report in circulation to-day. It is said it is about to receive into its ranks the Marquis of Montoro, leader of the Autonomists, and his principal followers. Instead of reforms, autonomy will then be advocated by the fusion. The reason given is the total disappearance of the important Cuban elements in the ranks of the Autonomists. The newspaper El Pais, the organ of the Autonomists, is languishing for want of readers, and the pensionist receives from the Spanish Government is not enough to cover its expenses.

The town of Manzanillo, Pinar del Rio province, has been attacked a second time by the Insurgent army under Gen. Pedro Diaz, who captured a large amount of money, arms, ammunition and other supplies. Several houses were burned by the assassins and twenty Spanish soldiers of the regular army were killed. The town of Guanajuato, in the same province, was raided last week by the Cubans.

Near Manzanillo, Santiago de Cuba province, a hard engagement is reported in which the Cubans, under Vega, routed a Spanish column, which was compelled to retire to the town.

The Cuban war has been published in Havana in a sensational pamphlet against Gen. Weyler. The Audencia has also indicted Sehor Montero Vidal, former Governor of Santa Clara province, on a charge of fraud. He is now believed to be in France. It is said that Weyler will ask for the extradition of both men.

Supplies for Cuban Patriots. Three Expeditions Reach the Island with Men, Weapons and Ammunition.

Official news was received yesterday in New York of the arrival in Cuba of three expeditions with men and munitions of war for the patriot army. Some of the men in the expeditions were Brigadier General Rafael de Cárdenas, Manuel Maria Coronado, a wealthy sugar planter and one of the Cuban patriots, and others.

The expedition included 2,000,000 cartridges, 1,000,000 rounds of shells, 2,000 pairs of shoes, 3,000 uniforms, five tons of dynamite, provisions, surgical instruments, and medicines.

As to the Cuban Elections. Dr. Eusebio Sanchez Agramonte, chief surgeon of the Cuban Army, whose arrival in Havana was reported in THE SUN yesterday, called upon Deleaga Estrada Palma and delivered to him a letter in which he published an interesting statement. Deleaga Palma has been informed that owing to the non-arrival in Camaguey of some of the Cuban representatives, the national assembly had not convened up to Sept. 20, and consequently all reports concerning the Cuban elections had been postponed.

CAPT. CRUICKSHANK'S DILEMMA. Examination of the Man Who Deceived Lady Randolph Churchill and Others.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 20.—J. H. I. Cruickshank, a Captain in the British Army, who was arrested a few days ago on a charge of defrauding Lady Randolph Churchill, her sisters, Mrs. Morton Freeman and Mrs. Leslie, and a number of other ladies of sums of money aggregating $80,000, and who, after examination, was remanded without bail, was again arraigned in the High Court to-day. The money obtained by the prisoner was intended to be used by the complainants for investment in an American railroad syndicate, which it was rumored had no existence. The ladies victimized were acquaintances of the prisoner.

Lord Inglethorpe, who was one of the witnesses at the night trial, testified that he started Lord Cadogan, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, had introduced him to Lord Cadogan, and it was also shown that it was through Lord Cadogan a brother that Mrs. Freeman was induced to part with a large sum of money for investment in Cruickshank's imaginary syndicate.

SILVER AND THE BANK OF ENGLAND. London Bankers Will Hold a Meeting to Discuss the Situation.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 20.—Owing to the continuance of the situation caused by the recent letter of Mr. Hugh Smith, Governor of the Bank of England, in regard to holding one-fifth of the Bank's note reserve in silver, a meeting of representatives of all banks in the Clearing House has been called for Wednesday next to discuss the situation.

Numerous reports are in circulation, including a statement that the Bank already possesses some millions in silver. The financial editor of the Standard contends that this is impossible so far as the situation is concerned, and that it is not likely that the Bank will take any position, which indicates, however expert a business man Mr. Smith may be, that he is not acquainted with the Bank act.

ANOTHER ANDRÉE PIGEON. This Time the Aeronaut Is Reported North of the Starting Point.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 20.—A dispatch from Hammerfest, Norway, says that the whaling ship Falken has arrived there, bringing a pigeon bearing a message which reads as follows: "July 13, 12:30 noon—Latitude, 82° 2' north; longitude, 12° 5' east—Good voyage toward east, 10 degrees south. All well aboard."

There is any truth in this latest story of an Andrée pigeon, the aeronaut was about 140 miles from Hammerfest, and he was about to point two days after he left his balloon loose. The latter part of the dispatch would indicate that the Andrée party had been blown east and south before he gained the northern position from which he sent the message.

It is not likely that Andrée would send so vague a message. The pigeon might carry more details than it is without adding appreciably to his burden.

ENGLAND LOVES US. Beautiful Sentiments Expressed by the London Club.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Sept. 20.—The suggestion of the revival of negotiations for an arbitration treaty coming on top of the soreness caused by the Behring Sea Blue Book, inspires the Globe to the following line of assertion of the beauties of Anglo-Saxon brotherhood.

The Globe would "view with the greatest regret the prospect of war between this country and the United States," but "in her relations with England we are irresistibly reminded of small boy relying upon the contemptuous good nature of a big fellow, America is the insignificant urchin and the big boy who could swallow him at a mouthful is England."
